BBA Advantage: supervising the operational part of practice with an efficient administrative support.

Processing files with cleverness and diligence, this is what the independent representatives are waiting for in a partner, and it's what BBA Financial Group commits to offering. Whether it's with its quotation service, new business, customer service, or compliance department, the BBA teams pay close attention to each file.

The organization's role is to facilitate exchange between representatives and insurers, and BBA is entirely dedicated to this important work. The company guarantees a complete follow-up at each step of the processing of every request, in order to ensure an efficient and consistent progression.
